- All contract rights belonging to or that may be claimed by AVID from any contract(s) to which AVID is a party, but not including AVID's rights in the Exclusive Distribution Agreement;
- All contract rights belonging to or that may be claimed by AVID under any contract to which AVID has rights as an assignee, successor, agent, third-party beneficiary, or other legal theory;
- All contract rights belonging to or that may be claimed by AVID under any contract between AVID and Jonathan Carfield;
- All contract rights belonging to or that may be claimed by AVID under any contract between AVID and Hanna(h) Carfield;
- All contract rights belonging to or that may be claimed by AVID under any contract between AVID and David Wu;

This personal property of AVID should be sold to satisfy the judgment. You should only sell AVID's personal property at a sale scheduled far enough in advance to allow compliance with the notice of sale requirements set forth in sections 6.17.130 and 6.21.020 of the Washington Code, which can take place no earlier than four weeks after the issuance of this Writ. No real property of AVID may be used to satisfy the judgment, award, interest, or increased costs.
